

INVITATION
to XVIII Fe. Me. S. P. Rum. 2010 - Durres – ALBANIA
Dear Colleagues and Friends

We cordially welcome you in Durres, ALBANIA. The city is the exciting venue selected for the 18th International Congress of Mediterranean Federation of Health and Production of Ruminants, May 26-29, 2010.

The meeting will continue the pattern of overwhelming successes in recent years in Italy, Croatia, Turkey and Spain. The program will include plenary talks by world renowned experts in the veterinary science and important topics critically presented by international Researchers in our field. Moreover, there will be great opportunities to spend time with leaders in the field, exchange ideas and develop collaborations with other scientists.

Durres is the most ancient and one of the most economically important cities of Albania. It is located on the central Albanian coast, about 33 km (21 mi) west of the capital Tirana. Durres is one of the most important harbour towns of Albania, and quite an important industrial center as well.

The city was founded in the 7-th century BC and has been conquered by many invading armies. Although most of these left a few traces in the old town of Durres, the main attraction is the excellent beach near the town. In the center you will find quite a good Archeological Museum, a Museum of History, and the house of Aleksander Moisiu's family which has been turned into a museum, also you will find the Roman baths and the magnificent amphitheater right behind the mosque

We would kindly to ask you to forward this information also to your colleagues at your Department or other units who might be interested in participation at the Congress. Thank you again and we look forward to your participation in this international Meeting.

Hope to see you in Durres, Albania

With best regards
